

SHERE

Manufactured by Shere Self Service Techniques of Gomshall, Surrey, this is a credit card machine using a touch screen to select the ticket required. Machines issue either APTIS size tickets or ATB tickets, the latter being identical to normal Tribute ATB tickets, but can be identified by machine numbers prefixed by 'QB' (Queue Buster).

A machine originally at Chelmsford issued tickets of APTIS size and layout, orange card for standard tickets (Form number GER3595/3/T) and season ticket card for 7 day seasons and Travelcards (GER3595/4/T). Receipts, issued after each transaction were credit card size on blank white card front and back. A machine in use at Peterborough was issuing tickets with the form number RSP No. GNER/Fastticket/1/T and that at Ipswich was using form number ANG0001. Machines currently use card with the form number RSP3598 for travel tickets and RSP3598/2 for Receipts. Some machines have their own NLC which is different to the usual station NLC. However, the station NLC is shown on receipts.

Virgin Trains have installed machines of a different design at some of their main stations: these issue credit card size tickets, but also have the facility to issue tickets previously ordered on the internet at www.thetrainline.com. When tickets have been pre-booked, this option is selected on the screen; the credit card is inserted as a check and then removed. The screen then displays a "keyboard" where the PIN number, obtained at the time of booking, is entered. The tickets are then issued, together with a receipt which is vertically printed on a paper roll with a background identical to that of Tribute ATB tickets. This stock is also used for the issue of seat reservation tickets, which are printed horizontally. WAGN also use machines of this type.

BLUE TEXT INDICATES AN UPDATE SINCE 16TH MARCH 2003.
